The Sun's CUSD Board Meeting Report

By Elizabeth Cowley

The Carmel Unified School District Board of Education held its regular meeting on January 25 at the Tularcitos School Library.

Director Dan Hightower presented the "Red Apple" award for outstanding volunteer achievement to Pam Priano. Mr. Hightower said that Pam has been a valuable volunteer for years assisting with sport activities, class parties and chaperoning fieldtrips.

Director Joe Jaconette reported that the Carmel Unified School District intends to implement a program for gifted students in conjunction with Monterey Peninsula College and California State University at Monterey Bay. Mr. Jaconette said he is shooting for a 3 week program this July.

The Board approved three filed trips; 2 Tularcitos classes will be going whale watching and a Carmel Middle School class will be going on the annual science class trip to study natural history at Death Valley.

Karin Camilli, Tularcitos Principal, reported that Tularcitos enrollment keeps growing and this year it has a total of 557 students and 57 employees. Ms. Camilli reported that the "Teacher Support Team" program has been successful since its inception 2 years ago. The Team consists of 6 teachers and a counselor the goal of which is to provide teachers a forum of their peers to help them solve problems including curriculum, discipline, difficult students or anything else that they are having trouble with. Ms. Camilli said the computer lab is up and running and they are working to integrate computer use into the everyday curriculum.

Jeanne Hale, Tularcitos Parent Club President, reported that it has raised over $165,000 for the school in the last 4 years. Ms. Hale said the Parents Club has donated $15,000 to the computer lab, $17,000 to the science program, $12,000 to the kindergarten playground structure, and $5,000 for televisions and VCR's. In addition, Ms. Hale said the Parents Club makes annual donations of $2,500 for field trips and $200 per teacher to use as they like for their class. Ms. Hale said they raise money through several events including the Read-A-Thon, currently in progress, and the Spring Fling dinner dance to be held on March 16.

Trudy Dowd, Tularcitos counselor, outlined the "Conflict Management Program", which is in its third year. Ms. Dowd said she teaches Tularcitos students that conflict is a difference of opinion and natural and then teaches students productive and peaceful methods of resolving conflict. A cornerstone of the program is the Conflict Managers which are students trained to mediate conflicts on the playground during recess. Conflict Managers are chosen by their peers in conjunction with teacher input and go through a 6 hour training session. Ms. Dowd said that the conflict managers learn communication and leadership skills, and self esteem.

The next Carmel Unified School District Board of Education meeting will be held on February 8, 1996 at 7:00 pm at the Carmel Middle School Library.

Water Board looks for another reason to exist

Approximately 80 people, including five District board members, attended a meeting at Sunset Center in Carmel January 24 sponsored by the Monterey Peninsula Water Management District (MPWMD). The meeting focused on a discussion of community water supply goals. "We're here to learn what people want so we can propose water projects that best respond to community wishes," said Board vice-chair Richard Ely.

On the list of questions was the need to define how much water must be developed to comply with the State Water Board's July 1996 order. That order determined that nearly 70% of the community's water supply is being taken without a valid right, and steps to reduce water use must be taken.

Also noted was the need to define what amount of water is needed to serve existing residential and commercial uses, how much water is needed for drought protection and environmental restoration of the Carmel River, what water for "growth" means, and what costs would be associated with various projects.

Better coordination between city/county planning and available water supply was also suggested, and supply for legal lots of record was also deemed as an important issue.

The January 24 meeting was the first of two special meetings encouraging public participation to help determine future action to develop water supply alternatives that address Peninsula water needs.

A second meeting on water supply alternatives is scheduled for February 8, 1996 from 6:30-9:30 p.m. at the Oldemeyer Center in Seaside. A summary of ideas and comments from the January 24 meeting will also be presented on February 8.

Fort Ord's development will impact the Valley and Pebble Beach

The Fort Ord area contains 27,978 acres of land, of which nearly 18,000 acres are designated for habitat management, natural preserve, and limited access open space, and are not available for development.

The remaining acreage, about 10,000 acres, is being considered for development for uses such as open space and parks, public facilities, schools and universities, housing, businesses (retail, commercial and light industrial), infrastructure, and a smaller military use area (the Presidio of Monterey Annex: POM).

Laureles Grade claims 1996's first local fatality

At about 5 p.m. on Saturday, January 20th, Timothy Maher was riding his 1991 Yamaha motorcycle northbound on Laureles Grade at about 45 mph. He was traveling down hill on the north side of the grade when for unknown reasons he lost control of the motorcycle and laid it down in the roadway.

He hit the guard rail and sustained multiple injuries to his neck. He was transported by ambulance to Salinas Valley Memorial Hospital with CPR in progress. SVMH continued CPR efforts unsuccessfully.

Maher was pronounced dead at 6:10 p.m. He was wearing full motorcycle leathers and a full face helmet.

The California Highway Patrol and the Coroner's Office are conducting investigations into the circumstances of the accident. An autopsy will be conducted to determine the cause of death.

Sheriff siezes guns from Pebble Beach man - no charges

On January 15, 1996 at approximately 7:10 p.m. the Sheriff's department received a call from a Pebble Beach resident that several gun shots were heard coming from the residence at 4156 Sunset Lane, Pebble Beach. The caller also heard a male subject screaming along with a female yelling, "Put down that gun".

Upon arrival deputies discovered that Francis Edward Kowal, age 31, was inside the residence and armed with numerous firearms. The neighborhood was evacuated and a security perimeter was set up. At that point the Sheriff's safe team and hostage negotiators responded to the scene.

After approximately four hours, contact was established between negotiators and Kowal. He was talked into surrendering to Sheriff's deputies without incident.

He was taken into custody and transported to Natividad Medical Center where he was committed by the department for mental observation. Weapons were confiscated from the residence and will be stored at the Sheriff's department pending further investigation. As of 1/16/96 no charges have been filed and the incident is still under investigation.

The firearms included eight rifles, three shot guns, five pistols, one being a tech 9 assault pistol, a bow with arrows, a dagger collection, and a sizable amount of assorted ammunition. The weapons were seized pursuant to Section 8102 W & I Code.

Scott Hennessy to the Monterey County Planning Commission, replacing Jo Stallard, for a term ending January 23, 1998.

Ileene Maureen Crane-Franks to the Monterey County Planning Commission, replacing Mo Orrett, for a four year term expiring January 23, 2000.

Yes there is a way to mail letters and small gifts to troops in Bosnia

The U.S. Army has released addresses for "Any Service Member and Any Family Member" mail to the Bosnia area.

The address for soldiers and airmen serving in the area is: "Any Service Member, APO AE 09397." Those wishing to send mail to the families left behind in Germany should use the address: "Any Family Member, APO AE 09399."

According to Lt. Co. Hollis Simmons, commander of Army recruiting in northern California and Nevada, mail to those addresses must be limited to cards and letters. In a few months, he added, the Army will expand the available postal facilities to handle small boxes of toiletries and snacks, shoe box size or smaller.

"The Any Service Member and Any Family Member addresses must be used to address mail to a specific family member or service member," Simmons added. "The mail will be delivered to the area and distributed among units there. The family member mail will be distributed to families in Europe left behind when service members deployed to Bosnia."

Military postal officials have established a toll free number to help those mailing items to the Bosnia area. Call 1-800-810-6098 weekdays from 5 a.m. to 1 p.m. to verify active ZIP codes or inquire about restrictions.

"Mail from home is very important to the morale of our troops and their families," said Simmons. "Anyone, especially school classes, youth and civic groups, are welcome to send Any Service Member mail to our soldiers in Bosnia or to their families."

WHAT'S NEXT? Mel Vercoe

Looks like greed has managed to do what foreign enemies could not. Campaigning for White House or Congress jobs is out of reach for anybody not well-heeled, or already "in", or a World Class fund raiser, or willing to sell his soul to special interests, or to ambitious religious ideologies, or hung up on playing unaffordable World Leader games, as a hobby.

So, how do we get acceptable looking volunteers to run for these jobs? With our country in real trouble, not by accident, but by plain, greedy mismanagement, we can't see anybody we'd really like to see in the main steering rooms in Washington.

Sure, it's our fault. We simply haven't been paying attention. Sitting back is getting us nowhere. We either get off our duffs long enough to alter the system, or we go down the tube. I'd really appreciate some suggestions. Picking a President or Congressperson at random from the phone book could be risky. We can't afford a possible worsening of the problem.

Doing away with the two main parties, and just having Party A and Party B, or maybe some candidates wear hoods, so we could just vote for their ideas, not for their looks, or maybe hire some honest looking employment agency to fill these positions.

So, there is the problem, and some screwball suggestions. I'd really welcome some ideas. I'm genuinely concerned, when our America is in this much trouble in desperate need of better leadership, and I cannot see a single candidate I'd want to help send to the White House. I'm willing to "tell it like I see it", maybe offend somebody, whatever will work, on the chance it will contribute to our getting our country "back on track."

Valley Grandfather Gives Thumbs Up to "As The River Runs"

Editor, Carmel Valley Sun:

Just want you to know that the Jan. 9, 1996 "As the River Runs" Ed/Op in the CV Sun was faxed to Sam Farr, Pres. Clinton, Gov. Wilson, Sen.

Feinstein and Sen. Boxer.

This best expresses my thoughts, and you must know you have my admiration and respect. Having been brought up during the depression, and knowing how to cope with hard times, this experience matured me and most of my friends of that era very quickly.

It is and in all probability, a difficult period to expect change, but if not now, when?

May you continue to be inspired and remain a driving force for the good of all Americans. I've been retired for almost 17 years, and find my standard of living going down. (In other words, you spend within your means.) I'm being an active grandparent to three lovely granddaughters.

Rancho San Carlos Plan Faces Serious Charges - Traffic and Water Flaws

Editor, Carmel Valley Sun

At the last hearing on the San Carlos Ranch development, Chairperson Johnsen was correct in her count of 42 against and 52 in favor of the development. Unfortunately, what was not mentioned was that a petition had been submitted with 452 registered voters opposing the project.

Many of the 52 people who were in favor of the development were employees of the Ranch, their relatives, Realtors, members of a large construction company and, of course, several representatives of the elite group making the presentation.

The water issue has definitely not been resolved. The damage that will occur by building along "ridge lines" adjacent to the tributaries to the Carmel River will have an adverse effect on water quality.

Consider the increased traffic on narrow Robinson Canyon Road and then entering Carmel Valley Road, which already has a less than tolerable level of service.

And consider the "golf trail", a new word that was "invented" to hide the word "golf course" for fear the public would be furious, knowing how much water is necessary to keep a golf course green.

The project needs additional scrutiny. Putting aside the additional funds which the county coffers will receive if the project is approved, let us first consider the effect on our environment, our quality of life and our beautiful Carmel Valley.

The Battle Over

Mountain Lion Status

Heats Up

Editor, Carmel Valley Sun:

Proposition 197 should be judged by what it is. Simply put, it is a measure to resume management of the state's overgrown mountain lion population - something it has been barred from doing either by law or by lawsuit since the early 1970s.

The opponents of this measure are falsely trying to portray it as a repeal of the "hunting ban" included in Proposition 117 of 1990, but that is a very misleading representation. Proposition 117 banned all proactive management tools for the Department and only allows the Department to react after a lion has either attacked someone, or injured someone's pet or other domestic animal. I cannot conceive of any wildlife biologist concerned with species balance that would consider this an acceptable management tool.

Proposition 197 would more appropriately be labeled as a repeal of the management ban placed on the species. It does not even address the issue of hunting anywhere in the proposed law, but rather allows the Department to propose whatever management tools it feels are necessary after it completes its three year study. Then the Fish and Game Commission will hold public hearings, considering the proposed management plan in relation to both science and public opinion before adopting all or part of it.

I don't know what will come out of the three year study of the species and neither do the experts at the Department of Fish and Game. All I know is that they need to be given the responsibility and the tools to manage this predator species in conjunction with every other species that it preys upon. Without this ability, many of the other species that the Department is trying to manage are being put at serious risk, including the big horn sheep, elk and deer herds.

If you want to return public safety and species balance to wildlife management in California, I urge you to support and vote yes Proposition 197 on the March 1996 ballot.

LITTLE BY LITTLE, OUR WATERS ARE LOOKING LESS LIKE ART AND MORE LIKE TRASH.

There are toxic chemicals in our water. Such as oil. And pesticides.

You might think industry is to blame. But they're only part of the problem. You and I, in our everyday lives, are also responsible for a tremendous amount of water pollution.

However, we can all help protect our water. For example, use less toxic household cleaners and practice natural lawn care by composting and using fewer chemicals. And instead of pouring used motor oil onto the ground or into storm drains, simply take it to a gasoline station where it can be recycled.

To find out more, call 1-800-504-8484, and we'll send you additional information on how you can help protect our rivers, lakes and oceans.

That way we can turn this terrible tide around. And restore the beauty to our water.

CLEAN WATER. IF WE ALL DO A LITTLE, WE CAN DO A LOT.

More on modems.

In order to promote connectability between modems there have been a series of International Standards that each modem manufacturer tries to adhere to but with more than 100 modem manufacturers, each with numerous models, and so many standards some stretching back ten years, that it is little wonder that modem-modem connectability is often a problem. Standards cover all aspects of modem transfers including error corrections, file compression, ringing, "handshaking", hangup...

The most recent communications standard is called V34 and the premium modems are those that are 28.8 V34 or the 33.6, which are rather rare. Typically 14.4/14.4 V34 modems cost from about $50 to about $150 and 14.4/28.8 V34 about twice that. Transfer speeds are greatly increased with a "hardware compression" capability and flash upgradeability is a useful feature that allows software upgrades.

A further factor is the UART chip with which the modem is equipped. There is insufficient space here to explore this but the important point is to ensure that you have a 16550 or 16550A or better chip - not the old obsolete 8250 or 16450 ones. The majority of computers in use today have these old chips and unfortunately many PCs sold today still do not have 16550 series UART chip. Even in newly shipped Pentium-class computers the modems often come equipped with 8250 or 16450 UART chips in order to keep the manufacturer's costs as low as possible. It is almost certain that all new separately sold modems today will have the right chip. Microcom and Hayes claim several hundred kbaud for some of their modems, which may be true under lab conditions, but not on public telephone lines. Consider yourself very lucky if you get even 28.8 kbaud from 28.8 V34 modems on such lines.

The best compromise today for those on a moderate budget is a 14.4/14.4 modem which is now available from $50-$60. Where to buy modems? Costco recently had excellent prices for Supra modems, which come with a beautiful communications terminal. Otherwise the best deal is via mail order. Get a copy of the Computer Shopper and do your homework. Make sure you use your credit card and ask about card surcharges and shipping costs. There are many manufacturers with very good reputations and, to name but a few, AT&T, Cardinal, Hayes, Motorola, Supra, USR, Zoom. Computer magazines often publish the results of modem tests.

In the next part we will talk about the revolution in modems. You can now have a sound card, a modem that acts as a PBX, an answering machine, fax and file transfer capability, call forwarding and callback...all in one card.

Cal-Vet boosts home loan limit to $250,000

Enabling more veterans to purchase homes in higher cost regions of California, Gov. Pete Wilson approved legislation to increase the maximum Cal-Vet home loan amount to $250,000 statewide.

The new law applies to single family homes including condominiums, town houses and mobile homes affixed to land owned by the borrower.

Wilson's approval of Assembly Bill 1382 made the increase for veteran home buyers a reality, effective January 1, 1996. Assemblyman Peter Frusetta, R-Res Pinos, authored the legislation.

Previously, the maximum Cal-Vet home loan was $170,000 or 90 percent of the county median home

"Here's a reminder for all military veterans now residing in the golden state," announced Jay Vargas, California secretary of Veterans Affairs. "Any veteran living in California who meets the eligibility requirements may apply for a Cal-Vet loan. If you were not a resident of California at the time you entered the service, but live here now, you may apply for a Cal-Vet home loan. My fellow veterans, I encourage you to learn about your benefits, you earned them. Check out the new and improved Cal-Vet. Our people want to make loans to veterans," said Vargas.

According to Vargas, compared to the competition, including VA, FHA and other conventional home loans, Cal-Vet has many advantages: no points, low $50 application fee, low down payment, rapid application processing, best earthquake and flood protection plan available, rehabilitation loans, subsequent loans, home improvement loans.

In California, veterans may telephone 800-952-5626 to request a pre-qualification request form.

SHARING OUR BYWAYS & HIGHWAYS

There are precious few through roads in Carmel Valley, Pebble Beach, and the surrounding area. These roads carry precious cargo, people, supplies and services. The safe, courteous use of the roads is vital to our peaceful enjoyment of this very special part of the universe.

There are a few ways in which every one of us who uses these roads may contribute to the overall safety and smooth passage along our byways.

- Leave plenty of room between you and the car in front of you - avoid tailgating.

- Slow down when you are being passed by another car.

- Always be prepared and willing to surrender the "right of way."

- When you are able, stop and give assistance to disabled vehicles or lost tourists.

- Always slow to allow room for "turn-in" traffic from side roads and driveways.

- Slow drivers and sightseers are welcome. Slow drivers and sightseers should, however, pull onto the shoulder and stop to allow the easy passage of through traffic.

- Always think courtesy and cooperation when you drive these precious roads.

In doubles, a good return is low, so your opponents have to hit up. If you get your return down, the opponents will have a very tough volley.

It's not necessary to hit the ball hard to be effective in doubles. Mix in some soft underspin shots, or shots with less pace.

ARIES (March 21 to April 19) Early in the week, a friend comes to you with a secret to share. However, this becomes a complicated issue as the week wears on, making you somewhat uncomfortable. Spend time this weekend on an unfinished task.

TAURUS (April 20 to May 20) It's a great time to see and be seen, particularly with relatives. However, some extra expenses are possible, particularly where travel is concerned. This weekend, you are confused by a problem on the domestic scene.

GEMINI (May 21 to June 20) You're too impatient this week for your own good. Remember, you can't accomplish everything you want all at once. Slow down and get the job done right. A family member disagrees with you over a career concern, but you must persevere.

CANCER (June 21 to July 22) Your pride can sometimes get in the way of you getting the job done. It's okay to ask for help if you need it. A financial proposition made by a partner needs more delving into before coming to any sort of a decision.

LEO (July 23 to August 22) You have the urge early in the week to get off by yourself and just dream. If possible, take some time off and indulge. The inspiration you receive as a result of your little respite is well worth it.

VIRGO (August 23 to September 22) Not everything is crystal-clear this week concerning a job worry. There's more going on behind the scenes than you think. A co-worker holds the key to all this, so start asking questions. Approach romance with a clear head.

LIBRA (September 23 to October 22) The beginning of the week is marred by petty bickering with a family member.

SCORPIO (October 23 to November 21) Partners need to make some decisions regarding the use of joint assets, particularly any savings. Your instincts about a certain co-worker's veracity are on the mark. This person not only exaggerates, but flat-out lies.

SAGITTARIUS (November 22 to December 21) A friend is a bit too demanding of your time now. You need to set this person straight. Later in the week, you'll treasure extra time for yourself. This weekend, a family member has a tendency to get on your nerves.

CAPRICORN (December 22 to January 19) You're just not in the mood this week to keep your nose to the grindstone. Instead, you want to kick up your heels and have some fun. However, it must be work first and social life second to avoid problems with bigwigs.

AQUARIUS (January 20 to February 18) A business associate has some useful information concerning a situation at work. On the home front, you are right to suspect that a family member isn't giving you the whole story. Do some further investigating.

PISCES (February 19 to March 20) It's a week when you won't be in any mood for crowds. You deal better now one-on-one and should keep it that way.

"To effectively develop water supply alternatives, the entire community needs to understand and develop consensus about community water supply goals," said Henrietta Stern. "Water related problems on the Peninsula and the need for reliable long term solutions has not disappeared. The Peninsula still relies heavily on how much rain we receive each year, which determines whether adequate supply exists to meet our daily and future needs."

Interested members of the public should call the Water District at 649-4866 for more information about this and future meetings.

for the Reuse Plan project to: review the types of land uses that can occur in an area; determine the potential impacts that proposed uses may have on the environment based on the physical conditions that were present at the time Fort Ord was closed as a military base in September, 1991; review the final Reuse Plan currently being prepared by FORA, as well as review a Conservation Plan and a Capital Improvement Program; provide information for use by local governments in determining changes that will be needed to obtain funding and approvals for redevelopment planning for the properties; and, provide information about changes that may be needed for adjusting boundaries (spheres of influence), or for establishing special service districts and delivery systems, such as for fire, water and sewer services.

The Reuse Plan anticipates land uses consisting of: housing, business (retail, commercial, light industrial), schools and public institutions, open space and recreation, habitat management and limited access open space, and infrastructure (water, sewer, road, and transportation systems.) The Reuse Plan includes the California State University-Monterey Bay campus and properties of the University of California-Santa Cruz.

Under current land boundaries within the former Fort Ord area, 3,049 acres are within the boundaries of the City of Marina; 3,933 acres are within the City of Seaside; and 20,996 acres are within Monterey County.

The City of Monterey and the City of Del Rey Oaks have proposals to annex small portions of land into their boundaries from the county area. Other agencies, such as schools and social service organizations, have also requested or been granted small amounts of land.

In addition, several other agencies/governmental units also have or will have land use control within the former Fort Ord area including: California State University (CSUMB); the University of California; California State Department of Parks and Recreation; the U.S. Bureau of Land Management; and the U.S. Department of the Army.

Reuse efforts are being studied in two phases: plans through the year 2015, and plans through the Ultimate Buildout period (estimated 50 years and beyond.)

In the short term, to the year 2015, it is anticipated that about 13,500 of the 22,000 housing units could come on line, primarily from utilization of existing housing and infill acreage; that about 1000 hotel room units could be absorbed; that about 5 million square feet of business space could be added; and that approximately 18,500 jobs could be generated.

Over the long term (at buildout), approximately 22,200 housing units, including housing for students at CSUMB, are expected within the Reuse Plan; about 1,800 additional hotel rooms could be added; nearly 15 million square feet of business space (retail, commercial, and light industrial uses) could be developed; and nearly 45,500 new jobs could be provided.

Persons unable to attend the hearings, or who prefer to comment directly to FORA, have until 9 p.m. on Monday, February 12, 1996 to submit written comments to: Fort Ord Reuse Authority (FORA), 100 12th Street, Building 2880, Marina, Ca. 93933. Written comments may also be faxed to FORA at 883-3675.
